

In my service to God and mankind you can count on a few things from me for certain:

My Purpose in being here is many faceted, though my main goal is to help people that want to break free in this lifetime to do so. By free I mean full surrender to the will of the Lord. In that surrender of many people the Pure Love of God will be manifest in this world through many great souls. Very Humble, and Great – and God’s assistance to the world will be plentiful. The 200+ waiting to surrender to Him. By free, that is to mean “full Love of God,” service to God and mankind and to return Home in this lifetime if that is desired.

1. I am a woman who is in Love with God and thus all of His creation. My Love for Him is unconditional and my Love for all of you, all the people, is always present and always unconditional, whether you like me at present or not, does not stop my flow of Love to you. Your process of self-discovery and purging never stops me from loving you. I love you as I love God – unconditionally. And as He loves Us, unconditionally.
2. I am here to carry His Presence, Love, Energy, Knowledge and Power to assist you in your transformation back to Him. To allow yourself to be open to me and my Presence and teachings in your life will connect you directly to the special power and assistance that He is bringing to this world today. It is not necessary to be in my physical presence to allow the link to be made and our relationship to be established. I live to be a circuit for you to plug into, only for you to plug into the main powerhouse which is God. My Union with Him is total and ever increasing in nature. I am a live socket. If you like, plug in and reap the benefits. And be prepared for a rigorous transformation. To break free is not easy, you must be totally responsible for your journey.
3. I am here to speak teachings that will help people to specifically break free of the illusion. To lead people down the path of ultimate spiritual transformation which is the death of the ego and the return to your eternal loving relationship with God once again. I am here to help more intimately smaller groups of people that will be leaders in this Mission and bring the MOL and its teachings to the world.
4. I am here to bring inspiration and faith to those seeking union, pure Love of God.
5. And one thing you should know is that my very nature of Love of God and freedom in Him will have me live my life in that state of freedom which the world and its concepts of God cannot stand.

My state of full God consciousness in human form by its very nature of being will rattle and agitate all of your judgments, concepts and beliefs about God, masters, religion, right and wrong. What God is like and what God is not like according to your standards, which are all illusion. My task in this world is to dispel darkness and bring His Love peace and (unreadable). Darkness and separation from God is held in place due to judgements, concepts and beliefs. So my simply being who I am and speaking how I speak and behaving how I behave will all become one big Divine Trigger in your life and in the world, to trigger you into self-discovery and for some, self-realization. My job is to wake you up.

If everything in your consciousness is stirred up that will cause you to search within for truth. And of course everyone knows that only truth to be found is deep within. To go to the depths necessary for self-realization and Love of God to manifest, everything you hold to be true and worth hanging onto down to the subtlest levels will be challenged.

So I, Kalindi, am a woman in your life that will love you through it all even when you are hating me because of your own pain and separation. You can always know that, I am always by your sides eternally and have acceptance for your transformations and what God is doing with you.

And I Kalindi, will always keep things stirred up just by what I say, how I act and how I simply my life in God and for Him.

When I come out of seclusion I will be more of who I already am. Outrageous, wild, free, very deep, serious, happy, fun, funny, sexual, sensual, loving, intense, very intense and all within peace. And my job is to be and to speak and that I will.
